Poetry

As smooth and sensual as suede. Woody notes of eucalyptus, vetiver, and guaiac awaken an air of mystery.

“Inspired by the smell of ink on parchment, this Poetry fragrance is simple yet unique. Beautiful calligraphy swirls across the page on notes of precious woods and alluring incense. The mysterious world of the poet beckons through exotic rich cedarwood and saffron. Patchouli adds intrigue as the quill continues to move across the paper.”

White Tea

Serene country hills. A refreshing infusion of white tea, jasmine, and wild rose brightened by citrus and aromatic thyme. An elegant embrace.

“Silver Needle white tea leaves are among the most prized by connoisseurs. Harvesters delicately pick only the fresh extremities of the plant. When steeped, they blossom into an incomparable aroma. For this fragrance, I added a touch of white freesia for additional brightness and a hint of sustainable copaiba balsam wood for extra comfort.”
